New Hyde Park
Menorah Lighting Ceremony

Rabbi Boruch Wolf presides over the Chanuka menorah lighting ceremony in front of the old “Dairy Barn” at 938 Hillside Avenue, which also featured sufganiyot and Chanuka-themed music. Special thanks to Donald Panetta, owner of the house above on Stewart Avenue, for helping facilitate this milestone menorah event.

The Park Page Puzzle:
“Chanuka Challenge II: Giving Gelt”

This week’s Puzzle: When is the ideal time to give Chanuka gelt?

Solution to last week’s Puzzle: The law of the Shamash (helper candle) is seemingly more stringent than for the actual Chanuka lights in that it must be rekindled if it goes out whereas if the actual lights go out (unintentionally), they need not be rekindled. Moreover, the Shamas is lit first and is often placed at a higher / distinct position. Yasher koach to Susan Isler and Karen Klein for their solutions.
